

Professor Paolo Taticchi, OMRI

Paolo Taticchi is Professor in Strategy and Sustainability & School Deputy Director (MBA, Global Engagement, Executive Education) at UCL School of Management. He also serves as the Co-Director of the UCL Centre for Sustainable Business.

Highly active in executive education, Paolo has trained thousands of managers and executives from Fortune Global 500 companies and is a sought-after speaker, frequently invited to deliver keynotes at prestigious academic, governmental, and industry events. His research on corporate sustainability and performance measurement is internationally recognized. Paolo's latest books, "Disruption" and "Sustainable Transformation Strategy," were both published in 2023. Paolo is also the host of the #InLoveWithBusiness podcast channel. This channel is dedicated to exploring the fascinating world of business, where passion meets profession.

Paolo has significant consultancy experience in strategy and sustainability, assisting companies and governments across several countries. Paolo has received numerous awards for the impact of his work, and his projects, quotes, and opinions have been featured over 350 times in international media outlets. From 2021 to 2023, Italy's leading business daily, Sole 24 Ore, named Paolo the most influential Italian under 40. In 2024, he received the prestigious Stefan A. Riesenfeld Memorial Award from Berkeley Law in recognition of his significant contributions to sustainable business practices.

More on: www.paolotaticchi.com